

Head of External Affairs

Welcome From Our Co-CEOs

Thank you for your interest in working with us at the Society of London Theatre & UK Theatre. Our organisations are the membership bodies for the theatre sector, representing theatre producers, managers, owners, and operators both in London's West End and across the UK.

This is an exciting opportunity to work for our organisations, working on behalf of a vibrant and diverse sector, at a critical time for our industry. After we joined the organisations, we started a strategic review process which defined who we represent and our new vision and mission.

Our vision is a dynamic, sustainable and world-class theatre sector.

Our mission is to champion theatre and support our members to thrive.

To deliver our vision and mission, we are in the final year of an exciting three-year strategy delivering against ambitious three-year goals and we are in the process of developing our next three-year strategy which will build on the successes of the last three years.

We cannot achieve our vision and mission alone – and nowhere is that truer than in how effectively we engage with government, policymakers, industry and the media on behalf of our members. As we look to the future, the Head of External Affairs is one of the most business-critical appointments we will make: this is the person who will define how government, industry and the public understand the value of theatre, and who will turn our advocacy priorities into real influence at the highest levels.

The successful candidate will have a direct and lasting impact on our members and the wider sector. Reporting to our Director of Membership & External Affairs the role works collaboratively with other Heads of Department and the Executive Team to ensure the organisations are meeting their goals. They will advise our Co-CEOs, Presidents and Boards on the political and reputational issues that matter most, build the relationships that protect and grow the conditions theatres need to thrive, and lead a talented team to deliver measurable results for our members. With an ambitious and experienced leader in this role, we will significantly strengthen our ability to deliver our strategy and support the sector through a pivotal period.

Theatre and the performing arts industries enrich our lives and strengthen our sense of belonging in communities up and down the country, supporting community cohesion and economic growth. Alongside the social and cultural benefit our members provide, theatre is also a key component of our fast-growing creative industries. Domestically, theatre generates £2.39bn GVA, supporting 205,000 workers. For every £1 spent on a theatre ticket, an additional spend of £1.40 is generated in local economies, adding up to £1.94bn per annum of extra value added to local economies by theatre audiences.

We work hard, and aim to have fun while we're doing it. We have a fantastic team of around 60 people working across our main office in Rose Street and the Official London Theatre Ticket Booth in Leicester Square. Our social committee ensures that we have plenty of opportunities to get to know each other, our sustainability committee is working hard to ensure we play our part in protecting the planet and there are plenty of opportunities to experience the world-class theatre produced and presented by our SOLT & UK Theatre member. While a background in theatre or the arts is not essential, you will need an appreciation for performing arts and the importance of cultural activities as an integral part of our lives.

We hope you find this role of interest and look forward to receiving your application.

All best wishes,

Claire Walker & Hannah Essex

Role description

The Head of External Affairs will lead Society of London Theatre and UK Theatre's external affairs function, will help set the strategic direction for advocacy, policy, public affairs and communications strategies. Reporting directly to the Director of Membership & External Affairs the postholder will play a pivotal role in advancing the interests of theatre across the UK and ensuring the sector's voice is effectively represented at the highest levels of government, industry and public life.

The role has two core strands. The first is public affairs and policy: developing and delivering integrated influencing strategies that build relationships with ministers, parliamentarians, civil servants and industry partners, and ensure SOLT & UK Theatre's advocacy priorities shape the political and regulatory environment in which theatres operate. Alongside this sits a distinct media relations and communications remit: building the profile and reputation of SOLT & UK Theatre with journalists and the public, supporting our Co-CEOs and other spokespeople in media opportunities, and protecting the organisations' reputation through issues and crisis communications. While your experience may be more in one area than the other, the postholder will need to develop an integrated External Affairs strategy and flex between the two strands as political and reputational priorities demand, working closely with members, policymakers, industry partners and the media so that SOLT & UK Theatre is recognised as an authoritative and trusted voice for the theatre sector.

As a senior leader, the postholder will provide strategic advice to the Executive leadership including the Co-CEOs, Presidents and Boards on political, policy and reputational matters, identifying opportunities and risks within the external environment and translating these into effective advocacy and communications activity. They will lead and develop a high-performing team and ensure that all external affairs activity delivers measurable impact for members and supports the organisations' strategic objectives.

We welcome applications from all and are open to discussing access requirements. If you would like to discuss any access needs during your application or, if you are selected for interview, at the interview stage, please email us at jobs@soltukt.co.uk and the HR team will get in touch with you.
